Parts of dental implants

Dental implants are like natural teeth and have two parts: root portion and crown (cap). The root portion of dental implants are made of medical titanium that is placed into jaw bone and the crown will be connected to the root portion by a connector that is called abutment.

- ▶ Need one tooth (single tooth implant)
- ▶ Need more than 1 tooth (multiple implants)
- ▶ Need full set of teeth- Full mouth implants (All on 4/ All on 6 implants)

Procedure steps and time frame for same day dental implants, also known as full mouth dental implants or All-On-4 / All-on-6

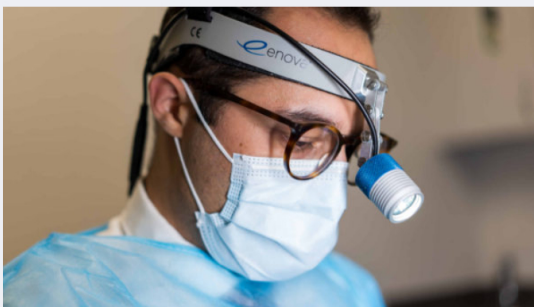

Free consultation visit

This is the beginning of your dental implant journey where you meet Dr. Danesh-sani for a comprehensive evaluation and exam. You will receive an x-ray (3 dimensional CT scan) and the doctor will review all the customized treatment options per your need and guide you to make an informed decision. You will receive a clear detailed breakdown of your dental implants cost and available payment plans as well as your medical and dental insurance benefits. At the end of this session you will know how much dental implants cost with exact numbers summarized for you with no hidden fees.

Exam visit before your procedure

We will make an impression of your teeth and collect all the necessary measurements to design and customize your teeth and smile. This visit is also a good time if you have any further questions to ask about your treatments.

Dental Implant surgical procedure day

This is the day that your dental implants will be placed and you will leave the office with a fix (non-removable) naturally looking full set of teeth that work like natural teeth. This full set of fix teeth will be temporary only to let the dental implants heal completely into your jaw bone.

Healing phase and postoperative checkups

This is the time period that we need to let the dental implants heal and get fused to your jaw bone. We will see you a few times after the surgery day to ensure proper healing of the dental implants.

Delivery of New Permanent Teeth

After your dental implants healed completely, we will provide you with a new set of permanent teeth which you will enjoy for the rest of your life!
